THE EDITORIAL OUTING.

La Crosse, July 24.—The annual meeting of the Wisconsin Press Association held here yesterday, brought two hundred representatives together, and the citizens vied in tendering such hospitalities as will make their guests happy for many days.

In accepting the resignation of President Hicks, the association elected Vice President B. J. Price to the vacancy and the routine work of the association gave way at an early hour to sightseeing in the city, and to many of the craft then came revelations in the public and private improvements that La Crosse has witnessed during ten years. Miles of macadamized streets, hundreds of commercial houses of respectable proportions, a large number of elegant dwellings, and the superb appointments of public water, public schools, electric light and efficient municipal government—all impress the visitor with the excellence of the home aspect of the city, while the manufacturing concerns and the railway communication relate the city to others in ways that invite the people to wealth, culture and progress. But as Martin Luther said, "the chief glory of a city is its cultivated people," so La Crosse bears to the stranger the character of one of the foremost, and yesterday exhibited this character with emphasis that will make it abide in the gratitude of the press representatives.

La Crosse claims 30,000 people; has an assessed valuation of ten million dollars, and a debt of only two hundred thousand. It lies on the Mississippi river at the mouth of Black, and is on the main stems of the C. & N. W. Ry., C. M. & St. P. Ry., G. B. & St. P. Ry., and C. & B. & N. R. R. It manufactures vast amounts of lumber, and flour, carries on important wholesale trade in domestic, and, as implied by the paralleling of river by rail, transportation is an important factor of local prosperity. Later, something will be said of the local interests.

The evening meeting of the association at the new theatre brought together a brilliant audience of citizens and strangers who listened to a speech by Ignatius Donnelly, of Minnesota, whose chief point was one of adulation phrased thus: "La Crosse contains to-night the chief intelligence of the state, and when this association adjourns La Crosse may become her ignorance—and the speaker spent the next hour in disparaging the country editor, making altogether a message that was scarcely reconcilable through the elegant diction of the speaker. Mrs. Moore's poem was likewise well delivered, and showed the possibilities of the youth's "career" under the fostering influences that the press promotes. Miss Nettie Booth was heartily encoined in her violin solo, and the editors slept the sleep of harmony to Eau Claire after refreshments at Norden hall, leaving La Crosse at twelve midnight.

Eau Claire, Wis., July 24th, 1889, 4 p. m.—The Press excursion party arrived here at 7 a. m. to day, and after breakfast their train was run to Shawtown, when the Shaw Company's model saw mill were inspected, the Electric Manufacturing Company's shops were seen, and carriages drove the editors to points of interest till one o'clock, when the banquet was served at the Armory to four hundred people, occupying it until four o'clock when the train left for Superior.

The special features of the Eau Claire hospitality were found, like those at La Crosse, in the engrossment of a large number of people for the courtesies, so no visitor was obliged for a moment to depend upon himself for diversion. The banquet was perfectly organized under Eau Claire ladies, and the viands were served in a delightful manner, a superlative abundance and in presence of elaborate decorations of flowers, bunting, mottoes and portraits. The speech of welcome by Mayor Shaw and the responses to toasts were in well chosen, inspiring words.

Latest reports from the Isthmus of Panama received at the state department, in Washington show that it is quiet there, Chih, desirous of adding to her laboring population, furnished 3,000 of the canal workmen thrown out of employment, transportation to her ports. The United States congress appropriated $250,000 to enable the state department, by its representatives at Colon, to furnish transportation to their homes for such American laborers as desired to leave the isthmus, but up to the present time less than $30,000 has thus been expended. The state department has not yet been informed of the beginning of work upon the Nicaragua canal by the American company as reported. When so informed an agent will probably be stationed at Greytown until congress can provide for the appointment of a consul there.

A story comes from Europe that the Standard Oil trust has completely put Russia in a hole as regards its petroleum industry. The American "ring" has bought all the empty barrels in Europe and all to be made, has cornered the pipe market, and has hired all the bulk oil steamers which formerly plied on the Mediterranean, Black and Caspian seas. It is said that this gigantic trick paralyses the oil industry in Russian territory for at least two years, as that time will be required to procure barrels and pipe from new sources and to equip new steamers for oil transportation.

A Washington dispatch says that Colonel Dudley, of the republican executive committee, who has been given charge of the campaign in the west, says the national committee will furnish a list of the speakers asked for in new states. The national executive committee has sent one of its members, Henry Payne, of Wisconsin, out to Montana, the only one of the new states that can be considered doubtful, to investigate the needs of the party there. Mr. Payne is already at work, and will soon come east to report to Chairman Quay and Colonel Dudley.

Dr. W. H. Russell (known as "Bail Run" in the United States) has recently returned from a tour through South America. He was asked in London why Egan had been sent by the United States as minister to Chili, and the reply was that as "Egan was a great land agitator, it was supposed he would feel at home in an earthquake country." The Englishman that can get a little fun out of the Irish situation at present has more than the usual genius of humor in his composition.

Lieut. Schwatka stands at the head of syndicate letter writers in this country. His letters are being published in 2,000 country journals and eight metropolitan papers, the combined circulation of which exceeds 9,000,000. He furnishes, two and one-half columns per week. Lieut. Schwatka will leave in August, for a three year's ramble in Mexico, and will make the cave dwellers a special study. He stipulates in his agreement that he will remain fifty miles or more from any railroad.

The notorious cattle queen, Kate Maxwell, and her partner, James Averill, were lynched by cowboys near Independence, on the Sweetwater river, in Carbon county, Wyoming territory. Averill and Kate Kilde had been engaged in cattle stealing for some time. Kate died during her lynchings, while Averill begged for mercy.

THE TELEPHONE.

Humorous incidents connected with the use of the telephone.

He had never seen a telephone, and his friend was showing him how it worked. It was in his office. He called up his house, and the wife came to the telephone.

"My dear Mr. Jones is here, and I have asked him to come up to dinner." Then he turned to Mr. Jones and said: "Put your ear to that and you'll hear her answer."

He did, and this was the answer: "Now, John, I told you I would never have that disagreeable wretch in my house again."

"What was that?" spoke out Mr. Jones. Women are quick. A man would have simply backed away from the telephone and said no more. She took in the situation in a second when she heard the strange voice, and quick as a flash came back the sweetest kind of a voice.

"Why, Mr. Jones, how do you do? I thought my husband meant another Mr. Jones. Do come up to dinner. I shall be glad to see you."

A well-known lawyer had a little experience of the telephone a few days ago. He was in his office, when the bell rang, and he went to the telephone himself.

"Who is it?" "Mrs. Blank—California street." "What can I do for you?" "Please send up a doll, and a horse and cart, and a pig-in-clover puzzle, and a woolly horse."

"Beg your pardon." "The pig-in-clover must be dressed in a red dress, and please send up a banjo." "I don't understand."

"I mean—" The voice had suddenly ceased and he went back to work. He happened to know Mrs. Blank, and when he met her he asked her the meaning of this message.

"It was that incorrigible child of mine. She got up on a chair and rang the bell, and when they asked her what number she gave them the first she could think of. It happened to be yours."

A lady up-town wanted a servant, and found she could not get down-town to visit the employment office. So she telephoned and rung up the employment office. The young gentleman at the other end promptly answered:

"What is it?" "I want a girl." "So do I," said the young man. Then the explanation came, as a woman generally makes it, last.

Nutmegs. The nutmeg is the fruit of a small tree that grows about 30 feet high. It is a native of the East Indies, but is cultivated in other tropical lands. It has a small, yellow flower. The fruit is small and peach-like, but with a smooth surface and turns yellow when ripe. The exterior, a thick, fleshy husk, dries up and cracks, disclosing the nut. The outer covering of this nut is what we know as mace. It is red at first but turns to a light brown when dried. Next comes a hard, shining shell, and inside that is the nutmeg. The tree bears about the eighth or ninth year from the seed. The mace is taken off and dried in the sun for one day and for eight days in the shade, then dampened with sea-water and pressed in bags. The remainder of the nut is very thoroughly dried, when the shell is broken and the nutmegs are assorted, the best ones being exported. They are first pickled in lime-water then left to sweat and finally packed for shipment. The Penang nutmegs, the best, are about an inch long, pale brown, corrugated on the surface, with red streaks in the gray interior.

Workingmen Going Abroad. New York, July 25.—The steamship City of Rome, leaving here to-day, had on board a party of forty-two representative workmen bound for a trip through the big manufacturing centers of England, Scotland, France, Germany, and Belgium, and the Paris exposition.

Monticello to Have a Daily Paper. MONTICELLO, Ill., July 25.—The Monticello News made its appearance to-day. It is published by Dr. Jacob Bohn. This makes the fourth paper here. Editor Burgess of the Independent will soon start a daily paper.

Illinois Crops Damaged. BOSTON, Ill., July 25.—Rain has fallen almost continuously here for the last twenty-four hours. Low-land corn is badly damaged, and the injury done to hay in windrows and oats in the field is great.

MURDERED WHILE ASLEEP

A HORRIBLE CRIME IN AN INDIANA TOWN.

The Bodies of Three Men Found Near Whiting Station—Witnesses White Capt.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 25.—A report is current, but not fully authenticated, that early this morning the bodies of three men, one colored and two white, were found near Whiting Station, Lake county. Examination developed the fact that each had a fatal wound exactly on the back of the head. One of them, when found, was entirely nude with the exception of a shirt, and this fact, together with other evidences, goes to show that the deed must have been committed while the victims slept. Near the colored man was found a pocket-book and several bank notes. Who they are, where they came from, or how they came there is unknown to any one. One report says they have been in Whiting for several days and were enticed on the railroad and murdered and buried, but probably the most plausible theory is that they were stockmen passing through with a load of live stock, and perhaps tramps on the train committed the deed and threw the bodies off in order to elude suspicion. The bodies were found close together, between the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio and Lake Shore railways.

REIGN OF TERROR IN MISSOURI.

Dangerous Factional Quarrels Over Some Recent Murders.

OSARK, Mo., July 25.—The preliminary trials of Rufus Burken and Wesley Combs, charged with the murder of Sheriff G. E. Branson and Detective Ed Funk at Kirbyville, Taney county, July 4, have begun at Forsyth. Seven men have already been arrested for the murder of the two officers, and one of the Miles boys, for whom a warrant was issued the evening of the killing, is still at large.

Of the seven arrests three brothers of the name of White were released from custody last week on account of insufficient evidence. Jim Miles, the wounded prisoner who was shot by Detective Funk after the latter had received two mortal wounds, does not desire a preliminary investigation now and will probably await the action of the Taney county grand jury in his case. Bill Miles, the eldest of the three noted brothers, is in the Springfield jail awaiting trial on the charge of murdering Capt. Kinney.

There is much bad blood in this county over these cases, there being two factions here known as the Balk-Knobsers and the militia factions. There is constant dread of trouble and bloodshed, which amounts almost to a reign of terror.

WHITE CAPS IN WISCONSIN.

A Wife-Beater and the Salvation Army Excite Their Displeasure.

NEENAH, Wis., July 25.—Monday night a young girl named Meyer became insane at the Salvation Army meeting and the salvationists were blamed as the cause of her insanity. A number of threats were made against them by excited citizens and the consequence was a riot. The rioters received a regulation White Cap letter of warning for himself and his associates to leave the city inside of six days or suffer consequences. It was signed "Neenah White Caps."

BRODHEAD, Wis., July 25.—A White Cap outrage occurred six miles south of here Friday night. The victim was a wife-beater, a rich farmer named Perry Nelson, known as the strongest man in southern Wisconsin. He had beaten his wife terribly of late. He was caught going home by a gang of White Caps, severely beaten, and tarred and feathered. They then warned him to give his wife $7,000 and leave the country in ten days or they would return and kill him. He contemplates leaving.

DEED OF A JEALOUS LOVER.

Jess Ogleman Kills His Sweetheart and Commits Suicide at Xenia, Ind.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 25.—News has just reached this city of a terrible double tragedy at Xenia, a small town a few miles south of this city, in which Jess Ogleman, a young man, shot his sweetheart, Miss Maggie Smith, killing her instantly, and then shot himself, inflicting a wound from which he died in a few minutes.

Ogleman resided at North Grove, three miles distant, and went, as usual for the last two years, to see his girl. He has been insanely jealous for some time past, and while sitting on the front porch with Miss Smith he suddenly drew a revolver as if to shoot her. She started around the house screaming, when he leveled the weapon at her and shot her twice. As soon as he saw her fall he planned to kill himself. He fired at his own breast and again discharged it. Both of the parties to the tragedy were well known and great excitement prevails in the neighborhood.

A Notorious Ute Desperado Killed. ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 25.—Late news from the Indian Territory is to the effect that the famous desperado, St. Popki, was killed last Sunday by the captain of the Creek Indian Light Horse company. St. Popki was a Ute Indian, a member of the notorious Wesley Barnett band of outlaws, and one of the most dreaded desperados in the territory. It was he who, while under arrest and in irons, murdered Deputy United States Marshal Phillips and posed a year ago by beating them down with his handcuffs. One of the Light Horse company was mortally wounded in the fight before St. Popki was killed.

LORDS OF THE CROSSING.

Two Men Murder a Pedestrian Who Objected to Being Run Down.

DETROIT, Mich., July 25.—Last night Morris Crawford and Walter Mason attacked to cross the street on a buggy containing two men, drove up and blocked the way. Upon being requested to move on hot words ensued and the men assaulted Crawford and his companion. Crawford was knocked down and injured so seriously by a kick in the abdomen that he died shortly afterward. Mason was seriously though not fatally injured. Crawford was arrested at an early hour this morning charged with the murder.

Six Thousand Lives Lost by the Flood. JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 25.—Judge Cummins to-day paid out $15,144. Numerous cases of swindling by applicants for relief have come to light and several have been stopped by the committee. According to the latest statistics, carefully compiled by the board of inquiry, the number of lives lost in the devastated district is placed at about 4,000.

While bathing her baby sister at Little Rock, Ark., Sarah Floyd, a young colored girl, dropped the child, who fell from a porch, a distance of twelve feet. While looking down at the baby the girl also fell, falling on the child and killing it almost instantly.

Forced to Leave Home. Over 60 people were forced to leave their homes yesterday to call for a free trial package of Lemon's Family Medicine. If your blood is bad, your liver and kidneys out of order, if you are constipated and have headache and uneasily complexion, don't fail to call on any druggist to-day for a free sample of this grand remedy. The ladies praise it. Everyone likes it. Large size package 50 cents.

ADVICE TO BUSINESSMEN. Man Winslow's Sooty Soap should be used by all who are in the soap business. It is the best soap for cleaning and is the best remedy for dandruff, skin and hair.

THE BELL COMPANY WINS.

The Big Telephone Litigation Decided Against Cushman.

CHICAGO, July 25.—Judge Blodgett has entered a final decree in the long pending litigation of the American Bell telephone company against the Cushman telephone company. It was a complete defeat as far as the Cushman company is concerned. The United States Circuit and District courts have been the arena for much fighting by representatives of these two rival companies, with little hope for success for the defendant, but it has been settled beyond a peradventure by this decree. The important part of the somewhat lengthy decree is as follows: "It is now hereby ordered, adjudged and decreed that the two several letters patent referred to in complainant's bill, originally granted to Alexander Graham Bell—namely, letters 171,405, dated March 7, 1878, and 188,787, Jan. 30, 1877—were each of them good and valid; that A. G. Bell was the original and first inventor of the inventions, and the American Bell telephone company is the sole and exclusive owner of the said several letters patent."

The decision goes on to cite cases wherein the defendant infringed upon the letters patent, and persisted in putting the fraudulently manufactured instruments upon the market; also, that a perpetual injunction issue restraining the Cushman company or any of its members from making any instrument on the letters patent. The Cushman company is ordered to pay $1 damages, and the costs accruing from these long months of litigation.

ABOUT "THE THUNDERER."

Mr. Smalley Says It Is Still Abreast, Though Expenses Are Heavy.

NEW YORK, July 25.—G. W. Smalley, in his London cable to the Tribune, says: "Mr. McDonald is still manager of the Times. He was believed to have resigned soon after the collapse of the Parnell letters—rested on pension, said gossip of the profession. The gossip was wrong. He has not retired, on pension or otherwise, but is still managing the news and business of the paper which he did so much to injure."

"Mr. Walter, of course, can not sever his connection with the great paper, part of which he owns and all of which he prints. He is in a good spirit and still hopeful of making out a case against Mr. Parnell, still convinced that some of the letters are genuine, and still expecting that some counsel will disclose this time—may turn up before the inquiry is over. Meanwhile the leading journal seems to lead as many people as before. Its business is as profitable as ever, though its dividends are small. The obvious reason that a great part of the profits go into the pockets of lawyers. There is little to show that its general prestige is impaired, or its circulation diminished, or its authority as an oracle of the commanding classes weakened."

ON THE ISTHMUS OF PANAMA.

Work on the Canal—A Statute of Bolivar—Terrible Epidemic in Brazil.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Central and South American advice to July 16 were received to-day via Panama. Delles of the army received a regulation White Cap letter of warning for himself and his associates to leave the city inside of six days or suffer consequences. It was signed "Neenah White Caps."

BRODHEAD, Wis., July 25.—A White Cap outrage occurred six miles south of here Friday night. The victim was a wife-beater, a rich farmer named Perry Nelson, known as the strongest man in southern Wisconsin. He had beaten his wife terribly of late. He was caught going home by a gang of White Caps, severely beaten, and tarred and feathered. They then warned him to give his wife $7,000 and leave the country in ten days or they would return and kill him. He contemplates leaving.

A magnificent bronze statue of Bolivar will be unveiled at Guayaquil July 25. Incendiarists have recently caused several large fires in Lima. The recent epidemic in Santos, Brazil, a town of less than 12,000 inhabitants, carried off 1,123 victims between Jan. 14 and May 15.

Gov. Lowry Sticks to It. NEW ORLEANS, La., July 25.—Superintendent Tyler of the Queen & Crescent railroad was arrested to-day in this city as a Mississippi detective on a requisition and taken to Jackson, Miss., to meet Gov. Lowry and answer the charge of aiding and abetting the Sullivan-Kilrain fight. Superintendent Carroll of the same railroad will probably be arrested to-morrow. Lowry expects to have Sullivan, Kilrain, and others interested in the fight appear in court next month and to be punished for violating the laws of Mississippi.

Minnesota Prohibitionists. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 25.—The larger portion of to-day's session of the Prohibition convention was taken up with papers on third party topics and discussing ways and means to increase the strength of the party. The committee on the plan of work reported in favor of a more thorough organization and recommending the holding of regular meetings. A telegram of greeting was received from the Ohio Prohibitionists.

Charter Election at Guthrie. KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 25.—A special from Guthrie, Oklahoma, says that the much-talked-of charter election, which was prevented a week ago by the Mayor, finally occurred to-day. No opposition was offered by the city administration and the charter was carried by 112 majority. The proposition to issue $50,000 in bonds was also carried by a majority of twelve votes.

Jay Gould Sues a Railroad. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 25.—Jay Gould brought suit in the United States court here to-day to recover $425,000 from the Little Rock, Mississippi River & Texas railroad. The suit is based on the mortgage of land belonging to the road named, which mortgage Gould wants to foreclose.

RAYMOND, Feb. 28, 1888. DR. F. B. BREWER: I received your last box of medicine all right. I think I am much better than I was a week ago. I commenced to gain strength as soon as I got the pills and feelers broken up. I don't have those nervous spells any more. I don't cough and raise as much as I did; what I do raise looks pretty bad but no blood, just clear corruption. I have not vomited up my food for about a week. My vitals begin to taste natural. I have a splendid appetite.
